GRACEGATE POLICIES AND PROCEDURES FOR SHORT-TERM SERVING TRIPS

Expectations for Exemplary Personal Conduct

A high standard of personal conduct is expected of all participants on the serving trip. It is expected that all actions and relationships will be modeled on Gracegate's values and expectation of those who are representing Gracegate abroad. It is also anticipated that all participants will willingly serve both the project, the community and the rest of the team.

The Spiritual Dimensions of Our Mission

Going on a Gracegate Centre short-term service trip is a life-changing and unforgettable experience, where you will be challenged to think bigger, grow in your leadership skills and discover a God-seeking lifestyle that is like no other. We go as willing servants of Jesus to work and serve among people that we hope to build lasting relationships with, following what Jesus instructs us to do in Mathew 25:35-40.

This trip is unique as it's not only a time of ministry within our team, but to all those we serve as well. We not only go overseas to minister and to help others, but we also go to get outside of our own comfort zones, challenging ourselves to find God in all places and to be in a position to hear God speak and lead us in ways we don't always hear at home.

We also aim to show God's love for others in all we do, by following Gracegate's values and standards of making sure everyone experiences a sense of belonging, that they have the opportunity to discover more about God and themselves, as well as engage in a way that inspires a lasting positive impact.

Signing this document states that you understand and agree to abide by the above expectations and model behavior that represents both God and Gracegate well.
